To whom it may concern,

I am writing to give a clear, brief outline of the details of my personal financial status, income, savings and their sources, as part of my wife's application for a spouse settlement visa.

- I currently have cash savings of £..... in a savings account with Bank and £ with Bank. The total sum in these two accounts has not been less than £.....in the preceding 6 months, as evidenced by the bank statements included with this application. I also have some additional cash (approximately £....) in other accounts with these two banks.
- From April 2019 - April 2020 I received an annual pre-tax income of approximately £..... in a combination of salary from previous employment (at Limited) and salary and dividends. This is evidenced in the attached copy of my self assessment tax summary.
- The savings I have are a portion of the income (approximately £.....) that I received from the sale of a property I co-owned with my sisters. We sold the property in 2015. I have since invested some of the income in liquid and illiquid assets, and have kept this portion aside in cash. The total invested in liquid assets (shares in public companies and cryptocurrencies) is currently worth approximately £.....

Yours sincerely,
